

Since 1980, Zeefax has built an enviable reputation on its ability to provide excellent and reliable electro-mechanical services and solutions to the Petrochemical, Process and Power sectors in many countries around the world. This reputation is founded on our well-trained, highly skilled and well motivated workforce based at our own fully equipped manufacturing facility in the South of England. This powerful combination means that we are your single UK-based source for a wide range of SCR Drive and Power systems and solutions, targeted mainly at the Drilling and associated energy sectors.

SCR System Design, Build and Support in the UK

Following our takeover of Hill Graham Controls Ltd. Zeefax are in a unique position to offer total support for all legacy Hill Graham and Ross Hill systems both in the UK and throughout the world.

Zeefax Limited has been servicing the Drilling industry for almost three decades, and is now the only remaining British manufacturer of traditional style analogue SCR Systems, as well as DC and AC drive Power Control Systems for both off-shore and land based drilling rigs.
